Offices at Their Disposal.

It may be interesting to know what offices the newly elected officers will have to bestow, so we publish the list. Our republican friends too can look over and call for what they want: The governor will appoint a private secretary, salary $1,200; State inspector and examiner, $3,000; assistant general, $2,000; assistant adjutant general, $1,200; arsenal keeper, $800; inspector of mines, $1,800 and $500; assessor of the geological survey; assistant inspector of mines, $1,200. The members of the State board of equalization, whose pay shall be $5 per day for such time as the board is in session. Superintendent of feeble-minded institute at Frankfort, salary $2,000. Three assistant superintendents, salaries $2,000; nine assistant physicians and three stewards, salaries ranging from $1,250 to $850, board at State expense in asylum.

The secretary of State will have the appointment of the assistant secretary of State, whose appointment must be confirmed by the governor, salary $1,800; two clerks in the corporation department fees aggregating $1,800 and $1,200. The auditor will appoint the insurance commissioner, $4,000; deputy insurance commissioner, $2,000; two clerks in insurance bureau $1,800 and $1,200.

Assistant auditor, salary $2,000; chief clerk $1,800; nine clerks, salaries $1,500 and one clerk $1,300. The treasurer will have the naming of his assistant, whose salary will be $1,200.

The commissioner of agriculture will appoint one clerk, salary $1,200, and a grain inspector and a grain weigher inspector at Louisville, salaries fees optional with commissioner, usually aggregating $3,000 to $4,000; weigher, fees worth $1,500. The superintendent of public instruction will appoint three clerks at $1,500; $1,000 and $800 respectively. Register of lands will name two clerks whose salaries will be $1,200 and one clerk, whose salary will be $1,000.

The sinking fund commissioners, composed of the governor, secretary of State, auditor, treasurer and attorney general will elect two penitentiary wardens, salaries, $2,000; two deputy wardens, $1,200; one chaplain, $1,200. Two physicians, $1,200 and 41 guards, $750 each, and a number of minor employees. The railroad commissioners will select a clerk, salary $1,200.

How They All Are.

GALLATIN, TENN., Nov. 9, 1895.—Miss Spencer, of Virginia, has been compelled to retire from the Faculty of Howard Female College on account of failing health. To take her place Prof. Hubbard has been so fortunate as to secure the services of Miss Carrie Smith, of Nashville, who recently returned from a year's study of vocal music, physical culture and the French language in Paris. Miss Smith teaches four days of the week in Howard College and two days at her studies in Nashville and sings on Sundays at Tulip street church.

Mrs. Hubbard is recovering from an attack of fever, which lasted during the month of October. Her health continues bad.

Miss Laura MacAnally expects to spend the winter with her mother in Philadelphia. She is convalescent after a severe attack of typhoid fever.

Eugene Hubbard, of the Boatmen's Bank, St. Louis, took his bed on Thursday last with a temperature of 103, but was slightly improved at last accounts. His health has been poor since the early spring.

Arthur Hubbard got a promotion on the first of November and is still greatly pleased with the Hargadine-McKittick dry goods company of St. Louis.

Heavy rains in Middle Tennessee, which were very much needed. Trade is picking up. Everybody disgusted with politics. The democrats can saw wood now.

J. M. H.

—Maj. L. C. Norman, who served as chairman of the democratic State campaign committee, believes that the republicans will remain in power in Kentucky until the people tire of their rule, and that the State will go republican next year. Certainly it will if any thing is wrong at Frankfort.

—Fireman Love was killed and Engineer Corbett perhaps fatally hurt by a collision on the L. & N., near Franklin, Tenn.

How to Prevent Croup.

Some readers that will prove interesting to young mothers. How to guard against the disease. Croup is a terror to young mothers and to post those concerning the cause, first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold very easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Stanford, Ky.

The widow Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain having left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Craig & Hocker, Stanford Ky.

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—The turkeys have begun to pour in for both shipment and slaughter.

—Ashberry Preston sold a yoke of oxen last week to Frank Folger for $40.

—Elder George Gowen left Monday to begin a series of meetings at Mayslick. He will be absent about two weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alex West entertained last week in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deuman, of Nicholasville, (see Miss Carrie West).

—Rev. C. M. Reid preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and will preach for the members of this church, while Rev. T. S. Campbell is in Danville. A new furnace is being put in the high graded school building, when finished it will be a nicely equipped school having many conveniences, for both teachers and pupils.

—The Baptists will give a musical and educational entertainment Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 28th. The proceeds will go towards paying for the lot they recently purchased.

—Died last Thursday after an illness of three weeks of typhoid fever, Mr. James Hammack, a young man about 26 years of age, and a member of the Lancaster band. Burial occurred on Friday.

—Irwin's majority for Railroad Commissioner in this county is only 255 instead of 271 as first reported. Alexander got 1,000 and Irwin 1,345, the former running ahead of Tyler and the latter seven behind Worthington.

—Mrs. Will George has returned from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, of Bristol, Tenn. Mr. and Mrs. Will Browning have returned to Lexington after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson. Col. W. O. Bradley spent Saturday night at home.

—The beautiful and artistic conservatory of Mr. R. H. Batson is about completed at a cost of $300. When it is adorned with rich, rare flowers of varied hue and many handsome exotics it will indeed be an attractive and pleasing addition to their new home on Lexington street.

—A. B. Brown, Sr., and James Hardin, who engaged in a shooting affray last Wednesday afternoon, gave bond to appear for trial to-day, but Mr. Brown was brought yesterday to be unable to do so. While Mr. Brown has been suffering somewhat from the wound in his neck he was never thought to have been dangerously shot. It is hoped by the friends of both parties that the unpleasantness is at an end between the two men.

—At the rally Friday night there were torch light processions and three bands in attendance, besides many enthusiastic republicans and some sick democrats. There were three speeches from the stand erected in central park. Hon. John W. Yerkes, of Danville, Judge G. M. Davidson, of Stanford, and Lewis L. Walker, oldest son of Judge William E. Walker, recently elected representative of this county on the democratic ticket. Lewis Walker has surprised his friends here by the strong, enthusiastic stand he has recently taken for the republican party. He renounced his faith in democracy and avowed his strong allegiance to republicanism.

Ben Lee Hardin expresses our sentiments as to the infamous secret ballot, though in more high-falutin language than any but a born artist in the use of words could do:

"The gangrenous focus of timid democrats hyphenated with unscrupulous republicans known as the new constitution, which gives license to cowards in exercising the right of suffrage, is the sole cause of power being transferred to a faction largely composed of those who have no interest in our State's glory and welfare. These secret ballot is the stiletto which buries its poisoned point in the vitals of a virtuous and manly sovereignty, and until this provision is wiped from our books, the mafia of ignorance and cupidity will have the ascendancy over Kentucky chivalry."

—A dispatch from Frankfort says: As for Senator Blackburn, he is mad, and no amount of sympathy which his friends can bestow on him will restore his good humor. He refuses to talk for publication, but to a friend here a day or two ago he declared that the relentless war on him by those who opposed him was something unheard of in the history of American politics, and he openly announced that for some time to come he would be a participant in politics only to the extent of using his long political knife on his enemies. It is said that the Senator raved over the subject in a perfectly uncontrollable manner, and denounced in the most bitter and scathing terms those who contributed to his defeat.

—James C. Matthews, colored, was elected judge of the recorder's court at Albany, N. Y., on the democratic ticket.

NEWSY NOTES.

—S. C. Busch and wife were suffocated by escaping gas in a New York tenement house.

—A school teacher at New Orleans fell from a third-story window of the building and broke his neck.

—The president signed the proclamation opening the Nez Perce ceded lands to settlement on Nov. 18.

—William Metley, a farmer living near Bethel, committed suicide by shooting himself through the bowels.

—Charles Buckner, a 15-year-old colored boy, died at Hopkinsville after eating the whole of a large watermelon.

—Three steamers, Scotia, Sidney Dillon and B. S. Rhea, were burned to the water's edge at Cincinnati. Loss $75,000.

—A dispute over rent caused J. H. Hayes, of Lee county, Alabama, to shoot and kill Michael and Henry Harper, tenants.

—While talking to a crowd in front of a church near Hopkinsville, Lonnie Hall was fatally shot by an unknown party.

—The next Ladies' Home Journal will contain the opening chapters of Mary Anderson de Navarro's stage career memoirs.

—John Fleming, of Kansas City, shot at a supposed burglar and seriously wounded his son who was returning from church.

—The five-year-old son of Prof. R. S. Crockett, of Hopkinsville, fell head foremost into the fire while playing and was fatally burned.

—Henry Blackburn, aged 60, took rat poison at Evansville, Ind., because his daughter threatened to marry one of his farm hands.

—Walter Billings, of Lowell, Mass., was killed and almost devoured by a tame bear that he had owned and trained since it was a cub.

—Wesley Mines, of Lewis county, was driven crazy by the loss of his vote. He mistook the prohibition device for that of the republican party.

—J. W. Cadman, a relative of President Cleveland's wife, died at Chicago of a bullet wound, self-inflicted, during a spell of despondency.

—The judges of the court of appeals has decided that Judge-elect George D. Reile should qualify as soon as he receives his commission.

—President Cleveland is said to regard the recent defeat of the party not as an uprising against the democrats, but as a revolt against party bosses.

—In a freight wreck on the Kentucky Central, near Middleale, Henry Huttsell, in charge of a string of horses, was killed and the fireman fatally injured.

—At a dance at Nebraska City, Neb., Tom Maher fatally shot Miss Maude Fessler because she was preparing to go home under the escort of another man.

—J. H. Hayes shot and killed Michael and Henry Harper, near Birmingham, Ala., in a fight which was caused by the refusal of the Harpers to pay their rent.

—W. E. G. Ellison, aged 68, a well-known citizen of Charleston, W. Va., committed suicide by drowning himself in the Kanawha river. Bad health was the cause.

—A Western paper says that during the last 30 days more than 200 head of cattle have died in Western Kansas from eating second growth sorghum, which is rank poison.

—A hold-over democratic Senator said at Frankfort that if the republicans undertake to unseat democrats in the House he would favor a resort to similar tactics by the democratic majority in the Senate.

—Near Winston, N. C., an insane father named Reed, attacked his daughter with a knife cutting her throat from ear to ear. He then seized an ax and buried the blade in her body, killing her instantly.

—Wm. Newman was hung at Little Rock, Ark., for the murder of his wife, whose body was found in a creek. His arrest grew from his protest without being accused: "Before God I never murdered my wife."

—The board of lady commissioners for Kentucky at the Atlanta Exposition held a meeting at Lexington and declared a vacancy in the position of president, held by Mrs. Cantrill, and elected Mrs. Sallie Humphrey Chenault to the position.

—Miss Vinnie Miller, of Spencerville, O., belle, is at the point of death from blood poisoning. She trimmed a corn on one of her toes till it bled and put on a pair of black hose. The coloring in the hose is supposed to have caused the trouble.

—The South Carolina constitutional convention has incorporated in the constitution a section holding sheriffs responsible for prisoners taken from their custody and lynched. The penalty is to be removal from office and inability to hold office in future.

—The Frankfort Capital says: The sudden resignation of Col. Gaither, of the second regiment, together with all the commissioned and other officers of the company at Harrodsburg, indicates that these good democrats and soldiers don't propose to serve Kentucky under a republican administration.

KIDD'S STORE.

—Arbor day was observed by the students of Riffe College in outskirts of our city, as a holiday so far as books and lessons count, but they studied the campus with a variety of selected shade and ornamental trees.

—Your Hustonville editor was in pastoral work, Thursday last, dispensing comfort to the disappointed and distressed, and illustrating by a smiling cheerfulness and philosophic resignation the absurdity of crying over spilt-milk.

—The exultation of victory in wood-splitting yells and deafening detonations are all right of course, but let it be whistled that your humble scribe is not the only lonesome listener who would recognize melody in a different brand of powder and different complexioned operators of the festival.

—Notices of Billy Stagg and Jim Wright's funerals have not been issued but we understand that the form will be locked and printing rushed as soon as the dates are furnished. Jess Riffe was stricken Wednesday. At first, thought dangerously, but is reported much improved Friday morning by a fake telegram, which claimed that Bradley is not elected.

—Some deft-fingered appropriator of the loosely stored traps lifted James Simpson's buggy rug last week before the moon had entered protest against operations of thieves. Tom Price's buggy-house on immediate roadside seemed to suggest a completion of the outfit, but some interposition saved the buggy at expense of only the top, which was skillfully removed—from even the county so far as known.

—Well, we are again impressed with the propriety of going out of the neighborhood to obtain information of what's going on at home. A wife-whipping blacksmith is in our city! Whimper softly if you know that it is a fact, for there is much about now to revive reminiscences of the inquisition. Truth will float to the surface, however deep the well into which she may be flung.

—Some of our innocents who were minute in explanations of a sadly demoralized exchequer, whilst they were taking in the G. A. R. festivities, modestly suppressed all reference to the sure thing (!) they stumbled on in their first encounter with three card monte. Friends who furnished change to pay their camp expenses probably still think that pick pockets touched the victims. Names furnished on application.

—The McKinney correspondent you blister in last issue was right, so far as rumor goes, except in the immaterial detail that Hon. B. B. King's back was wrenched getting on his horse instead of in falling off. The worry and natural wear and tear of an active canvasser found Ben about frazzled on election day, but who wouldn't have been chirrupy as a wren next day when returns showed him a winner in face of what would have been killing odds against any one but a favorite of the gods?

—Boyle Stone, of Liberty, had gotten as far as this place Friday, as general traveling agent of a museum hunting freaks. His especial meat now is a Kentucky democrat whose under jaw isn't hanging at a drop which suggests a window of a blacksmith shop. If he can find any individual capable of successfully simulating a sickly smile who has cheek enough to pose as a democrat Boyle has a job awaiting him. May the good Lord smile on Boyle's noble mission. I can't smile. Though not dead, democracy certainly sleepeth very soundly.

A Wail from Alabama.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal. MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 9.—Poor old Kentucky, you have gone back on your principle, and the grand old "democratic party" that has built you up, and made you what you are. Your politics is now as black as a native born African, you are to be pitied in your downfall, and straying off after strange Gods, and no doubt but what you will be well cursed in your downward course. Shame on you for laying aside the white man's principle, and going blindfolded into a party that will cause you grief and shame. Am afraid you have bit off your nose to spite your face.

The Interior Journal states that for 40 years the state was democratic, look how you were blessed during those 40 years, and how happy and prosperous you were. You have the wide world reputation as growing the finest women, her equal cannot be found on the globe, and also for raising fine stock and whiskey. You are equal to the "Land of Promise" in many respects.

Ye prodigals should return to the democratic fold, repent and be baptized with the democratic tears, you will then live happily together on the fatted calf of your land.

Be more watchful in the future, and do not let the "wolf" in the sheep's clothing enter into your fold, and destroy your peace and happiness.
